Gen. Eisenhower Drafts Plans For Truman Meeting

President-Elect May Cut Vacation Short To Attend To Affairs

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower ploughed into a mountain of mail today, and began drafting his plans for the "conversations and conferences" that he said must precede his meeting with President Truman.

He also planned another round of golf this afternoon — a more serious round than he played yesterday.

The new President-elect came to Augusta for a rest, settling into a secluded white cottage about 200 yards from the first tee of the National Golf Club course. But the affairs of state are crowding in on him more rapidly than he expected. An aide said he will go back to work immediately, even though this is only his second full day of vacationing.

In large part, this was made necessary by Truman's suggestion for a meeting "at your early convenience" to discuss the problems attendant on the transfer of government to a new president and a different party.

Eisenhower messaged back agreement, and suggested the week of Nov. 17 as the date. He added: "I obviously require a reasonable time for conversations and conferences leading up to the designation of important assistants."

Consequently, it appeared that the white cottage on the golf course may soon see numerous persons coming and going. The general's intention seems to be to ask his confidantes to go to Washington for conferences "in several departments of the federal government." Eisenhower in his telegram to the President used the Army phrase "for indoctrination."

The men he selects for those talks may very well be the ones he has in mind for Cabinet assignments in the same departments.

So far, in his conversations, he has not pointed toward anyone. It is generally believed, however, that he will keep with him some members of the team that carried him first to the party's nomination, and then to victory in the election. The leaders of his shock troops were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York; Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire; Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts; Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas; Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska; Paul Hoffman, former director of the ECA; and Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania.

Among his close associates were

Harr Denied New Trial In Lisbon Slaying

LISBON—Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp overruled a motion for a new trial for Sylvester M. Harr, 21-year-old convicted slayer of Mike Zlatar, at a hearing Thursday afternoon in Common Pleas Court.

Judge Sharp refused to grant a new trial after hearing about three hours of testimony in which Harr charged John Humphreys, 33, of Lisbon with the crime of beating the 70-year-old Center Township farmer to death at his home near Lisbon last January.

Humphreys and Harr were arrested together in Hollidaysburg, Pa. Jan. 20, four days after Zlatar's body was found.

At yesterday's hearing, Harr said he and Humphreys agreed in the Pennsylvania jail that he (Harr) would confess to the crime with the hopes of getting off with an involuntary manslaughter charge. Harr claimed yesterday Humphreys left him in Lisbon shortly after he had returned from having an argument with Zlatar over the purchase of a coal stove. Harr claims Humphreys then admitted going to the old man's home on the Trinity Church Rd. and beating Zlatar to death with a hammer.

At the trial, Harr told the story that Zlatar had agreed to sell the stove and he had a fight with him

Senate Internal Security Group's Future Is Questioned Under GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big question mark hung over the future of the Senate's internal security subcommittee today in an ironic twist to the Republican election victory.

In the last two years, under the chairmanship of Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada, the subcommittee has supplanted the House Un-American Activities Committee as the chief congressional group probing for Communist influences in and out of government.

A unit of the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which McCarran also is chairman, the subcommittee has a number of investigations under way now. One of these "is a hunt for any American Communists working for the United Nations."

Republican control of the Senate will knock McCarran out of his Judiciary Committee chairmanship, and the outlook is that his successor will be Sen. William Langer (R-ND).

Langer was among the small band of senators who fought two years ago in a dramatic all-night session to uphold President Truman's veto of the Internal Security Act sponsored by McCarran. During the night Langer collapsed and had to be carried from the Senate chamber on a stretcher.

After enactment of the law, the internal security subcommittee was set up in December, 1950, to police its enforcement. It also was given broad power to investigate the espionage and subversive activities generally.

Its authority will expire on Dec. 31, however, and it is doubtful whether Langer, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, would seek to have it extended.

Even if the subcommittee were given a new lease on life, Langer would be in a position to change its whole complexion since the chairman appoints the members. He probably could key it to a minor role at the most.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin is the top Republican on the Judiciary Committee but he also outranks all his GOP colleagues on the Foreign Relations Committee and has made plain he intends to lay claim to the chairmanship of that group.

Since a senator cannot be chairman of two regular legislative committees, Langer is in position as the number two Republican on the Judiciary Committee to step in as chairman.

Committee chairmanships are based on length of service and this seniority custom is rigidly adhered to.

Girl Hits Father 4 Hammer Blows

His Condition Poor; Occurs In Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A 21-year-old girl sat in a police cell today accused of striking her father four hammer blows on the head because "he's ugly looking and he made me that way."

The girl is Mary C. Burns of Daytona Beach, Fla., who police say is not unattractive. She is charged with assault with intent to murder.

The father, Ralph Burns, 52, of Lakewood, R.I., is in poor condition in a hospital, suffering from depressed fractures of the head.

Mrs. Mary Burns, the girl's mother, said in Daytona Beach that her husband is not unattractive either. "There's nothing wrong with his looks," she told a reporter.

Detectives said the girl, who had not seen her father since her parents separated about six years ago, waited for him to come out of work yesterday and then struck him four times with a hammer.

Witnesses said two men disarmed her.

Mrs. Burns said she and her daughter moved to Daytona Beach from Providence about a year ago. She said her daughter left Daytona Beach last Sunday presumably to go to Newark, N.J., to get a job.

She described the daughter as "very nervous" and "concerned" about her twin brother, Buddy, who is in the Army in Japan.

Providence detectives said Miss Burns apparently didn't stop in Newark but came straight to Providence, arriving here Tuesday.

They said also that the girl told them her resentment toward the father had rankled for 10 years.

GOP Senators Fear Widening Race For Floor Leader Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican senators feared today a widening race for the job of floor leader in the next Congress may turn into a bitter fight.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, who holds the post, has spread word that he wants to pass it to other hands and take over the less burdensome duties of temporary president of the Senate. In that role, he would preside over the chamber when the vice president is absent.

Mentioned for the post of floor leader if Bridges vacates it are Senators Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Ferguson of Michigan, Capehart of Indiana, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Knowland of California and Dirksen of Illinois.

Saltonstall was an early and vigorous supporter of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination. Hickenlooper went along after a period of indecision between Eisenhower and Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft. Capehart and Dirksen had boomed Taft to head the ticket. Ferguson professed neutrality in pre-nomination maneuvering, while Knowland was supporting Gov. Earl Warren of California for the presidential bid.

Dirksen is the man who caused an uproar at the GOP nominating convention at Chicago by denouncing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, one of Eisenhower's chief campaign backers and Republican nominee for president in 1944 and 1948.

Bridges declined to discuss the Senate leadership problems for publication. But a well-informed Republican Senate source told a reporter he believes Bridges will change his mind and continue as floor leader unless the six-man field of aspirants to succeed him narrows amicably.

Sen. Richard Nixon, the vice president-elect, dropped yesterday what sounded like a hint that Eisenhower himself might have some voice in Senate organization matters. A reporter asked Nixon whether Eisenhower planned to take a hand in such matters and Nixon replied that the President-elect will be "the dominant figure in the whole administration."

Eighth Army Said To Be Best Equipped

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army Quartermaster today said "No American army, anywhere, ever began a winter better equipped or clothed than the Eighth Army is now."

Col. J. D. Bell, Lacanada, Calif., made the statement in an interview with the season's first snow swirled across the rugged, desolate Korean battle front.

"Supplies of everything are ample, and distribution is good," he said. "Parkas are being issued to the troops now, with front-line outfits getting them first."

Bell said conditions were in sharp contrast to the early winter of 1950-51 when Allied soldiers suffered because of late supplies of cold-weather equipment.

After all parkas are distributed, the next item of issue will be the new insulated winter boots, for use in really bitter weather. The boots are the most modern method of preventing frostbite, which plagued the Eighth Army during the first winter of fighting. The boot is built on the same principle as a thermos bottle—with a dead air space between the foot and the outside weather.

The last item to be distributed, Bell said, will be the white camouflage garb already in Korea and Allied divisions can requisition it when they please, the colonel added.

Gasoline stoves are issued for bunkers.

Republicans Bicker Over Congress Spoils

U. N. Big Guns Rock Communist Hill Positions

Artillerymen Claim Allies Are Winning Bloody Crest Battles

SEOUL (AP)—The biggest guns in the U.N.'s Korean arsenal hammered Red positions on the Central Front today and jubilant artillerymen claimed they were winning the bloody battle of the hills.

Allied officers said about half of the 200 Chinese field pieces around Triangle Hill and Sniper Ridge have been destroyed or damaged.

The Kumhwa valley shuddered under the impact of the all-out Allied barrage.

As the big guns roared, the first snowfall of the winter sifted down from leaden skies. Infantrymen of both sides huddled in bunkers and foxholes, leaving them only for scattered patrol clashes across the dismal 155-mile front.

Chinese Reds threw two feeble attacks at Sniper Ridge in the pre-dawn darkness. Allied artillery and mortar fire chopped them to bits.

The U.N. high command turned over the Central Front battle to the artillerymen Wednesday night.

AP Correspondent John Randolph at the front said Allied artillerymen figure it will take them about 10 days to destroy the Red guns "if they stay there and shoot it out with us."

The continual barrage already was showing its effect. Tuesday about 23,000 rounds of Chinese fire hit the Allied lines. Wednesday only 11,000 rounds were counted. Thursday it dropped to 4,000. Friday was quieter still.

Randolph said the big guns can't do the job alone. Some Chinese field pieces are protected by log and earth parapets up to 23 feet thick. Others are hidden in tunnels and caves.

The artillery hopes to get most of them. Air Force attacks with searing napalm and big bombs may take care of the rest.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Reds launched several "hit and run" attacks along the front Friday. It said they probably were harassing attacks only, with no intent to capture Allied ground.

All were beaten back.

The season's first snow brought a bitter taste of the miserable months ahead.

Last night B26 Invader bombers ranged over Red lines in their continuing attacks on Communist transport. Pilots reported 120 Red trucks destroyed.

U.S. Plane Crashes In England; 11 Dead

DUNMOW England (AP)—A U. S. Air Force B50 Strato bomber with a crew of 11 crashed and burned here just before midnight last night. An Air Force spokesman said no survivors have been found.

The plane was on a training flight from a base at Upper Heyford, about 40 miles from here.

Firemen braved exploding ammunition and roaring flames from the plane's gasoline to drag out seven bodies.

The Air Force declined to disclose the bomber's group number or home base in America until the next of kin of the dead had been notified.

Eisenhower May Skip Japan On Forthcoming Korea Visit

TOKYO (AP)—Diplomatic and Army sources speculated today that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower might skip Japan on his forthcoming visit to Korea and fly direct from Okinawa or Wake Island to Seoul.

They suggested two reasons why he might bypass Japan:

1. Protocol would require that he call on Emperor Hirohito.

2. Security measures would be simplified if he did not stop in Japan.

The question of jet fighter cover to protect his plane on the trip from Japan to Korea also is a factor.

Army headquarters said no direct word on the Eisenhower visit had been received from Washington. But a decision is expected within two weeks.

AP Correspondent Robert B. Tuckman reported from Korea that American fighting men were looking forward to the Eisenhower visit.

Tuckman said they hope the general will do something about getting them home sooner, either by lowering the 36 points required for rotation or by putting more South Korean troops in the line.

The fighting men anticipated Eisenhower would spend a lot of time with South Korean troops studying their training program.

He also is expected to visit President Syngman Rhee.

Schnell Tool Plant Closed As 55 Strike

Schnell Tool & Die Corp. production was halted at 7 a.m. today when 55 workers went on strike, following failure by the union local of United Steel Workers of America (CIO) and company officials to agree on a new contract.

Charles Schnell, company vice president, said that the union and company were in disagreement on two points. The company, he stated, offered the workers any kind of union security clause, so long as it did not obligate the company to discharge persons not desiring to join the union. Union officials, he said, wanted only union men to be permitted to work.

Mr. Schnell declared that the company wanted a two-year contract, with future wage adjustments to be based on the Bureau of Labor Statistics index. He said that under the contract the company would grant wage increases when the index went up, but would not decrease salaries when the index lowered. The union, he said, wanted a contract clause calling for reopening of wage negotiations within a year.

The company spokesman stated that the manufacturing concern and the union had come to an agreement on a new contract Oct. 7. However, he stated, the subsequent appearance on the scene of a different union representative resulted in the present dispute.

Union officials could not be contacted for comment on the strike. Meanwhile today, the strike of about 700 employees continued at the Eljer Company. The dispute is over a new contract.

Lisbon Home Hit By $5,000 Blaze

LISBON—Lisbon volunteer firemen reported $5,000 damage in a fire Thursday night that gutted the interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pettigrew, 750 E. Lincoln Way.

Firemen said the fire occurred at 8:20 in the kitchen of the two-story log home. They blamed a faulty coal stove for the blaze.

The department brought the fire under control at 10 p.m., but were summoned back a half-hour later when the blaze broke out again.

Firemen were there for an hour the second time.

Most of the interior and furniture and part of the roof were destroyed.

GOP In Senate Faces Possible Leader Battle

Sen. Taft Will Have Lots To Say About Who's Floor Manager

By JACK BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer

Congressional Republicans bickered over the spoils of the Eisenhower landslide victory today as the President-elect prepared to send his first invasion wave into Washington.

Senate GOP members found themselves embroiled in a possibly bitter fight over their party floor leadership.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire spread the word he would rather be temporary president of that body—and third in the line of succession for the presidency—than keep the job he now holds. Bridges also could be chairman of Appropriations or Armed Services Committees in a Republican-controlled Senate.

Senators Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Homer Ferguson of Michigan, William Knowland of California, Homer Capehart of Indiana, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa and Everett Dirksen of Illinois were projected by speculation into the scramble.

Although Saltonstall was the only early and enthusiastic Eisenhower backer in this group it seemed likely that Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio—still commander of the Republican policy makers—would have a great deal to say about the choice of the floor manager.

Taft also indicated in Cincinnati he may take a seat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in preparation for active participation in foreign policy decisions.

The Ohio senator lost the nomination to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower but his campaign support of the GOP nominee assures him a major voice in Senate affairs.

Capehart and Dirksen were original Taft supporters. Hickenlooper and Ferguson were neutrals until after the nominating convention. Knowland supported Gov. Earl Warren of California but worked for Eisenhower after the nomination.

Sen. Richard Nixon who said yesterday he will resign before the new Congress meets to give an appointee of Warren a break on seniority hinted that Eisenhower will interest himself personally in selection of the floor leader. Nixon will take over as vice president Jan. 20.

Nixon's hint was interpreted as a sign that Eisenhower might back Knowland.

Eisenhower said at Augusta Ga. where he is vacationing that he wants to put his men in touch with the operations of government as soon as possible.

Accepting an invitation from President Truman for a White House conference on domestic and foreign problems Eisenhower told his predecessor in a message that he would like to have others representing him go to Washington "for indoctrination in the several departments of government."

The general suggested the week of Nov. 17 for the White House meeting but proposed that his advance guard invade Washington even before that adding:

"In this way our own conference can achieve maximum results. I share your hope that we may present to the world an American unity on the basic issues."

Truman already had invited the President-elect to send along a man to sit in final conferences on the annual budget. The thick, printed volume of the budget proposal must go to press about a month before the Jan. 18 date on which its submission to Congress is required.

This is two days before Eisenhower officially takes over as president. He has promised to cut the

Joanne Gilbert Is Rising Singer

Story Of Her Success Almost Fantastic

HOLLYWOOD — Most of Hollywood is talking today about a singer named Joanne Gilbert, whose success story combines a little of Cinderella and a little of Svengali.

The 20-year-old girl made her professional debut only a week ago at the Mocambo, famed Sunset strip playground of movie stars and Texas oilmen.

On the strength of this first night club stint, Paramount has signed her for the lead opposite Donald O'Connor in "The Big Song and Dance." It also earned her smaller parts in "Forever Female" and "Houdini."

A few months ago, this girl confined her singing to the shower, although her father, Ray Gilbert, is a famous song writer and coach of such singers as Tony Martin, Toni Arden and others.

She had been working as a model until last summer. Then she told her father that she thought she could sing. He took a listen, and as he puts it: "She discovered herself right under my nose."

Since then the father groomed her for a professional debut. Local critics did cartwheels after her Mocambo opening.

Joanne combines a little of the styles of Lena Horne and Billy Daniels, yet comes out like a night-club Debbie Reynolds.

Her father claims he put only about 12 hours actual training on Joanne. But her poise in front of an audience is the sort of thing that veteran performers acquire only after years.

Gilbert is the composer of such tunes as "You Belong to My Heart," "Canto le Gusta," "Baia," and the Oscar-winning "Sip-a-Dee-Dee-Dah."

Gilbert is one of those behind-the-scenes talents who make their proteges famous but seldom themselves.

"My daughter," he says, "is the fulfillment of all my own dreams of show business."

Although Joanne is a sexy extrovert on the stage, she is very shy in person.

MOTHER-SON TEAM—Sprucing her son for his days ahead in Congress, Republican Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton straightens the tie of her son, Oliver P. Bolton, also a Republican, who was elected to Congress by Ohio's 11th District. The two exchanged congratulations in Cleveland after Mrs. Bolton was elected to her seventh term in the House, representing the 22nd District. The double Bolton election gives the nation its first mother-son combination in history.

Warning For Appendicitis

It is wise to issue a warning about appendicitis every once in a while. This is a tricky and fairly common condition, and is probably still responsible for several thousand deaths every year, most of which could be prevented.

For this reason it is safer not to take chances about any symptoms which might possibly mean appendicitis than it is to gamble that they mean something else.

The appendix usually lies in the lower right part of the abdomen. But it can be on the left side or it can be twisted so that it lies to ward the back. The symptoms often reflect its position.

Acute appendicitis does not always cause severe pain. In older people particularly the pain may be slight and may not be located where it is expected to be. In fact, the pain is likely to be pretty much over the entire abdomen, at least at first.

Vomiting with appendicitis is common, but diarrhea is rare. Fever is the rule, though this is often not very high. Appendicitis is almost always accompanied by an increase in the number of white cells in the blood.

Cathartics or laxatives are dangerous. If there is the slightest question of appendicitis, the best thing to do while waiting for a diagnosis is to eat and drink nothing at all.

Laxatives (and to a lesser extent food and drink) produce wave-like movements in the intestines which greatly increase the chances of rupturing the appendix and spilling the inflamed and germ-laden contents into the abdominal cavity.

Most of the deaths from appendicitis could be avoided if more people realized the risks of using laxatives or of waiting too long before removing the appendix. In addition to surgery, the use of antibiotics has helped greatly.

What Happened In "L"; Ballots Gone

CLEVELAND — What happened to the missing ballots from Precinct "L"?

Harrassed officials searched the county Election Board headquarters today trying to find an answer.

In Columbus, Secretary of State Ted Brown held up release of final state election figures because of the missing precinct tabulations.

Voting irregularities in the May primary previously had caused Brown to investigate Cuyahoga Ballot practices.

Precinct "L," Ward 31, is located in the Salvation Army headquarters. When the heat went on to get the figures, Tom L. Terrell, deputy board clerk, hustled down to the precinct.

Precinct officials assured him the results had been delivered to the board headquarters in a grip. Terrell hurried back to his headquarters and the grip finally was located. But it was empty.

Housewife In Dallas Wises Up To Husband

DALLAS, Tex. — This is the story of a young Dallas woman told police after tossing a pan of scalding water on her husband.

"Several times lately he's made me stop my housework and stand on my head right in the middle of the floor. I got to thinking about it this morning and got so mad I threw the first thing I could find right at him."

The hubby was hospitalized but declined to press charges.

98.6 Per Cent Voted In Indiana Precinct

INDIANAPOLIS — The Sixth Precinct of the 21st Ward of Indianapolis may have set a voting record for any big city Tuesday, with 98.2 per cent of those registered casting ballots.

Walter L. Shirley, Republican committeeman, said also only 12 persons of voting age had failed to register.

The vote was 572 for Eisenhower, 79 for Stevenson.

Ohioans To Play Congress Role

Taft And Millikin To Be Vital Figures

WASHINGTON — Ohioans will play a vital role in deciding how the next Congress handles such important matters as foreign aid, taxes, economic controls and labor-management problems.

By virtue of long service, several veteran Ohio Republican congressmen will move into important committee, and subcommittee chairmanships while others will rank just below the chairmen of their committees — stone's throw from the top.

Sen. Taft is in line for the chairmanship of the Senate Labor committee—the same job he held in the 80th Congress when he co-authored the controversial Taft-Hartley act.

Taft also ranks right behind Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.) on the Senate Finance Committee. Millikin is expected to become that group's head.

Taft was chairman of the Republican Policy Committee in the recent Congress. Next winter that group will set Senate policy for the new majority party, and observers believe Taft will retain his leadership there.

Sen. Bricker, Ohio's junior senator, stands second on the Banking Committee, which handles legislation dealing with controls. Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) probably will be its chairman.

In the House, Rep. Weichel retains chairmanship of the Merchant Marine Committee.

Rep. Clevenger, a long-time foe of the Voice of America and critic of the State Department, becomes head of the subcommittee that will recommend appropriations for that department.

Rep. Jenkins, dean of Ohio's Republican House delegation, stands second only to Rep. Reed (R-N.Y.), who is to be chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

Rep. Vorys ranks second on the Foreign Affairs Committee, followed by Rep. Frances P. Bolton.

Rep. Brown will be topped only by Chairman Allen (R-Ill.) on the Rules Committee—the group that decides what legislation will reach the House for action.

On the Democratic side, Rep. Cresser advocates as chairman of the Commerce Committee because the Republicans will take over control of the new Congress.

Rep. Kirwan steps down as chairman of the subcommittee that deals with appropriations for the Interior Department, including funds for big power projects.

McCarthy To Continue Case Against Benton

WASHINGTON — Counsel for Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today the defeat of Democratic Sen. William Benton in Connecticut's senatorial election would not affect McCarthy's two-million-dollar libel-slander suit against Benton.

"We intend to push this suit right to the bitter end," Warren Magee of Washington, one of McCarthy's lawyers, told a reporter. "The suit will not be withdrawn."

McCarthy who won re-election in Tuesday's voting, is suing on the basis of charges Benton leveled at him before a Senate rules subcommittee. Benton had asked the Senate to consider expelling McCarthy on grounds of alleged fraud and deceit.

Magee said he expected the case would not be ready for trial before next spring.

Ike Played Baseball In Central Kansas League As 'Wilson'

NEW YORK — One of the first things President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower might have his public relations staff clear up for the nation's baseball fans is his short adventure as a professional baseball player. The details remain clouded in mystery.

It is understood the general played in the Central Kansas League as "Wilson" during the summer of 1912, while on furlough from West Point.

There were three Wilsons in that circuit—Alfy, who managed the Great Bend club, and two who are identified by neither first names nor even initials in the Spalding Official Guide of 1913.

Ike was possibly the Wilson who was in 23 contests for Lyons. The Manhattan Wilson got seven hits in 21 times at bat for a .333 average. The Lyons Wilson played 23 games, collected 34 hits in 83 times at bat for a .409 mark.

LOS ANGELES — Broderick Crawford, Academy Award winning film actor, spent four hours in jail last night after his arrest on a drunk driving charge, police reported.

Lt. E. R. Evans, in charge of the West Los Angeles police station, identified the actor. He said officers who made the arrest reported a car driven by Crawford smashed into two parked automobiles near a Sunset Boulevard intersection.

Evans said the husky 43-year-old actor told him he'd been at a party celebrating completion of a picture. Crawford was released on $250 bond to appear in court today.

The movie star won his best actor Academy Award for his portrayal in "All The King's Men" in 1949.

Water Lack Produces Emergency In Chardon

CHARDON, O. — Mayor Don C. Muchmore declared an emergency today as a water shortage parched this Geauga County seat.

The 276,000-gallon water storage tank which towers 100 feet in the air on the public square was nearly empty. The wells which supply Chardon's water are running out, presumably because of the dry weather.

There is water pressure only on the first floor of downtown buildings and many homes are without any water at all.

Chardon is drilling a new well. But until the shortage is relieved, Mayor Muchmore asked all residents to use as little water as possible.

Ohio Group To Hear Rails' Rate Hike Case

COLUMBUS, O. — The state utilities commission today will resume hearing on an application by major railroads for a 12 per cent rate boost for hauling coal within Ohio.

Thursday, a rate expert for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. testified Ohio's coal-hauling rates already are higher than those of five surrounding states and should be cut rather than hiked. F. Warren Brooks, said Ohio rates are particularly high for hauls of 40 miles or less.

The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. is one of several coal users and producers protesting the proposed rate increase.

Huntington Fire Seen Through TV In 3 States

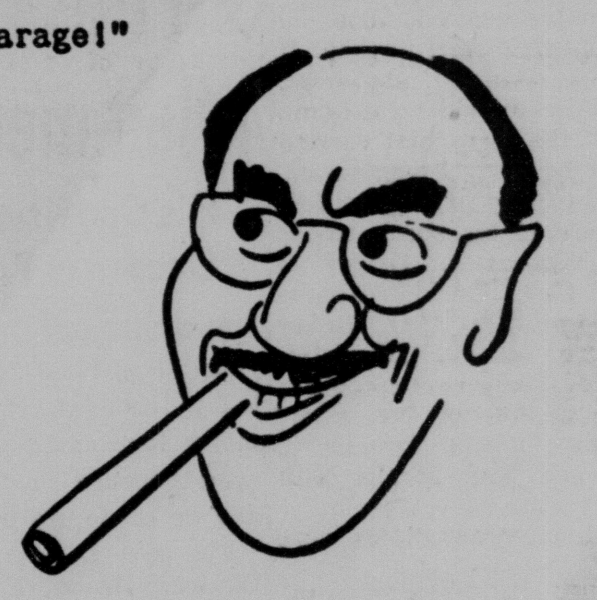

HUNTINGTON W.VA. — An estimated million dollar fire that destroyed a four-story furniture store and vacant theater building yesterday was seen by a television audience in three states.

Thousands of persons jammed into the area to see the spectacle. Others within a 60-mile radius of here in West Virginia Ohio and Kentucky had ringside seats when station WSAZ-TV trained its cameras on the blaze from its studios less than two blocks away.

Cost of maintaining colleges and universities in the United States in 1951 was about two billion dollars.

Problems Overburden Lancaster City Council

LANCASTER, O. — Lancaster City Council tonight will consider a trio of problems caused by the resignation of 38 nurses, demands by city workers for higher pay, and repeal of the city's income tax.

The one-half of one per cent income tax, in effect since last July 1, was cancelled by voters Tuesday. Tax Commissioner Al Brasour said the action left the city without funds to make necessary repairs and buy needed equipment.

The councilmen also will try to figure out how they can hold on to nurses at Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital. The nurses said they would leave their jobs Nov. 16 if the city didn't come up with some plan to get them more money.

Physicians, Surgeons In State Hike Rates

PORTSMOUTH, O. — Doctors charge patients living in the country a dollar a mile for calls.

Physicians and surgeons of Portsmouth and Scioto County posted their new, higher price list Thursday.

They said they would charge $3 for office visits and $2 for telephone advice and prescriptions. City house and hospital visits will cost from $5 to $10 depending on the hour. From 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., the patients will pay $5, from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m., $8, and from 10 p. m. to 7 a. m., $10.

A 30-minute consultation will cost $10 under the new schedule.

"Dads Night"Village Boosters

COLUMBIANA — "Dads Night" will be observed by the Columbiana Clippers in their concluding game of the football season under the lights in Firestone Park stadium at 7:30 p.m. today.

East Palestine, their traditional opponents in closing the season, will be here. Dads of Clippers will have seats on the players' bench, and will be given recognition at half-time. The Clippers, who have won four and lost four games this season, hope to make the wins outnumber the losses with the game this evening. Columbiana High School Band will play.

A large attendance marked the November meeting of the Columbiana Booster Club in the High School building Wednesday evening. In anticipation of the annual election of officers at the December meeting at the same place Wednesday evening, Dec. 3, Rev. W. S. Longworth, Superintendent D. W. Bailey and Lee Harold were backed as a nominating committee.

Bill Newell, main speaker of the evening, gave an account of his experiences as a member of Ohio State University football team, which he accompanied to the Rose Bowl game in California two years ago. Football Coach Homer Fyle and Basketball Coach Richard Berryman also spoke, and Superintendent D. W. Bailey and President John Cox of the Park Board thanked the club for having helped put over renewals of the school and park special levies.

MEMBERS ARE requested to report to the secretary, Wilder Foerch, on ticket sales in the membership drive.

Open house will be observed tomorrow by the National Rubber Machinery at its big plant facing Union St. Families of the 450 employees and guests from other Columbiana industries and the community will be conducted on tours through the plant while it is in operation.

Student Kills
Self Following
Lover's Tiff

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A refugee student from Austria, upset after a lovers' quarrel with his young American fiancée, committed suicide late yesterday by eating poisoned cookies, a city detective says.

The student, 27-year-old Heinz Berger, killed himself in a University of Texas science laboratory.

His body was found slumped in a chair by his fiancée, Miss Elizabeth Tracht, 22.

Berger and the Ft. Worth coed were to have been married next week.

After they quarreled yesterday afternoon in Berger's laboratory, Miss Tracht went to another lab to continue her own experiments. She returned an hour later with another coed to see her fiancée again. His door was locked and the building superintendent was called.

Detective Merle Wells said Berger, described by professors as "very brilliant," had smeared cyanide on cookies and ate them.

He was working for a doctor's degree in bacteriology.

Miss Tracht was hospitalized for shock soon after the body was found. A justice of the peace returned a verdict of suicide.

Cause of the lovers' quarrel was not learned.

Alger Hiss Formally
Applies For Parole

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says Alger Hiss has formally applied for parole from the Lewisburg, Pa., Federal Penitentiary.

Hiss, a former State Department employee, was convicted of perjury in 1950 in denying he gave secret documents to a Communist courier and began serving a five-year term in March, 1951. He becomes eligible for parole Nov. 21, when he will have completed one-third of his time in prison.

The five-man parole board will hold a hearing next week, possibly Wednesday. If Hiss' application is approved, he could leave prison Nov. 21.

Kentucky's 10 Votes
Lean Toward Adlai

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 10 presidential electoral votes unofficially belonged to Democrat Adlai Stevenson today by a shaky margin of 1,047 votes.

His claim on them is good at least until about Nov. 15 when the official tabulation begins.

The answer too whether Stevenson keeps them after that or whether they go to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower depends a lot upon absentee ballots.

Many were not included in the unofficial count and their weight could give Eisenhower the added push needed to make him the first Republican since Herbert Hoover to carry this traditionally Democratic state.

The final unofficial totals from Kentucky's 4,135 precincts in Tuesday's election read: Stevenson 494,109; Eisenhower 493,062.

The absentee ballots were not expected to have any influence on the other races.

Oh Well, He Was Right
50 Per Cent Anyway

BALTIMORE (AP) — Stephen B. Peddicord self-styled write-in candidate for the U. S. Senate in Maryland made two predictions two weeks before election.

1. He said GOP presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower would carry 40 states, only one more than he actually did.

2. The Baltimore electrician also predicted that he, himself, would sweep the Senate race in Maryland, winning by 10,000 votes.

The complete but unofficial returns failed to turn up a single ballot for Peddicord as of today.

Findings After The Fact

Vote analysts now will dig out the significance of Tuesday's voting, piece by piece. These are their probable findings:

The one-party system which has made the Deep South a stronghold for the Democratic party is disintegrating. Intelligent handling by the Republicans might dissolve it in all but a handful of states by 1956.

Women voters, now more numerous than men voters, will be given increasing recognition in electioneering; they hold the whip-hand whenever they choose to use it.

The party system is in a state of flux. The landslide in Eisenhower's favor was not equally in favor of the Republican party, though the party can benefit if it develops a broadly constructive program and upholds its new president.

The claim of labor - union politicians that they can control the votes of their members is hokum.

Another bit of hokum is the theory that voters will follow public personalities into a political corral.

The soundest guarantee of political moderation is a heavy vote; the vast majority of Americans are moderates in their political thinking and will outweigh such blocs as payroll voters and big-city machine voters if they go to the polls.

The most powerful force in politics is the "tide." When it is running, nothing can stop it. When it isn't running, nothing can start it. The tide in 1952 was running in favor of the palpable patriotism, the proven leadership and the personal dignity of Dwight Eisenhower.

It was running against the drab record of the Truman administration and the man who had been chosen to defend it.

A Fact That Remains

Nothing could make it more plainly evident that Chinese troops have the equipment and training to make them the equivalent of the best in the world than their successes in the stepped - up action in Korea.

A fact that will remain after the United Nations or the United States authority finally comes to grips with this military reality is that Asia's balance of power has been permanently upset by the Soviet Union's alliance with Communist China.

Russians are not trading their lives for dominance in Asia; they have millions of Chinese lives which can be used for that purpose. Chinese leaders are asking in exchange only equipment and advice.

When the last campaign posters here at home have disintegrated into pulp and tatters, that still will be a major fact in the history of the Korean war, no matter how the war turns out.

The Soviet Union, making its bid for domination of Asia, has had the advantage of using the manpower of an ally. The anti-Communist bloc of nations, chiefly the United States, has had the disadvantage of having no trained ally in Asia.

Training, when it finally was started under the difficulty of combat conditions, lagged far below its potential level after two and a half years of war.

Meanwhile, Russian training of Chinese troops was picking up momentum. The upset in Asiatic balance which followed destruction of Japan's military power in World War II had turned out in favor of the Communist conspiracy and was becoming more favorable toward the end of 1952.

From Sea To Shining Sea

From the first early - bird voter to the last election-night stay-up, the experience on the big day of popular sovereignty is one to remember.

It is as nearly universal as anything which Americans share in their heritage of political rights. From sea to shining sea, they go through the same process in the same manner. Nothing like it ever had been dreamed of before it happened here.

The founding fathers never dreamed of a government in which the ordinary people, themselves, would be permitted to choose a president. That responsibility was to be turned over to presidential electors, who would be chosen for their superior wisdom and freedom from popular pressures.

There comes at the end of every campaign an interval of misgiving when excesses of politicking have caused Americans to wonder if they may be in danger of destroying their heritage with fervor.

Their wonderment is wasted. The American heritage is in less danger from an excess of fervor than it would be from an excess of formality.

When opposing factions in politics cease to fight hard because they have no hope of victory, there will be no fervor.

There will be no republic, either. There would be in that event only one of several forms of one - party government in which the people are given no choice because they would choose automatically to have what they have lost - freedom.

Election Analysis

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Times Propitious For Era Of Good Feeling

What does the election result mean?

It means that America has reverted to type politically. To put it another way, it means that no group, like the labor-union vote, or any combination of pressure groups can win a national election if enough of the rest of the people vote the other way on some overriding issue that affects the voters of all groups.

It means there was a huge protest or resentment vote which far outweighed the "You never had it so good" argument.

It means that Sen. Taft was right when he said after the 1948 campaign that the Republicans can win if they get out their vote.

But it also means that the other party's vote has to be correspondingly disaffected in the same election, which, of course, was the case this time.

It means that Eisenhower's personal popularity far exceeded the Republican party strength, but this should not be misconstrued as meaning a Republican party weakness. The Republican gains as a party in the local voting contests were so substantial as to indicate that the country is turning from the Democratic party to the Republican party in a trend likely to grow larger two years hence if the Republicans make a creditable record in power.

It means that the American people are disturbed about the failure of our foreign policy to assert itself among our allies to accomplish greater cooperation and that the America-go-it-alone burden of today's international situation is by no means palatable to the voters generally, who want other nations to share fully the manpower obligation.

This is derived from the prominence given the so-called Korean issue in the campaign.

It means that so far as the anti-Communist issue is concerned, the people have not been misled by the controversy over the use of extremist tactics in exposing Communists, and that voters still think that "Where there's so much smoke, there must be fire."

It means that the Truman administration in general and President Truman in particular were disapproved by the electorate on enough policies and issues to lose the election for a candidate as attractive in many respects as was Gov. Stevenson.

It means that businessmen will have confidence in the future and that they will not be fearful of confiscation of their property and their earnings.

Socialism, which was checked first in New Zealand, then Australia, then Great Britain, now has met resistance and has been arrested in a national election in the United States.

An uplift in business activity and the strengthening of business incentives may be expected.

It means that the Senate, coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans will keep any one-sided legislation on labor-management or any other radical proposals from being enacted and that President Eisenhower will have a chance to develop a real era of good feeling between the executive and legislative branches of the government such as America has not witnessed since the presidency of James Monroe in the 1820's.

Reviewing objectively the tactics of the two presidential candidates in the light of successful strategy in past campaigns, historians of American politics will have to record that the winner achieved victory in spite of some glaring mis-

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

No inference is to be drawn from the fact that the administration gave John Lewis his formula-busting wage increase a few days before election . . . it could have happened to anyone if anyone happened to be John Lewis.

John just has a gift of being, in there at the right time with his Sunday punch . . . in fact he got one of his biggest victories on the Sunday afternoon of Pearl Harbor!

And if the end of the world should come in our time you will find John has figured it as an appropriate day to get his final demands initiated.

Anyway, we are assured by Mr. Lewis that $1.90 more per day miner is not inflationary and by now we should know that.

Anyone who can recall the CIO postwar thesis that 82 hours' pay for 40 hours' work was not inflationary and will match the grocery bill against the first, second, third etc. rounds of increases must know that they have nothing to do with inflation.

It's just that inflation seems to have arrived at the same time . . . pure coincidence and quite regrettable.

BIBLE QUOTATION

And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.—Joshua 24:15.

Public elementary and high schools cost about six billion dollars in 1951 and private schools about one billion dollars.

takes of commission and omission. The best thing like did, however, from a strategy standpoint was to make peace with the Taft faction. Without their help, he couldn't have won. Yet, inside his entourage, he was advised against the move.

Each candidate overlooked many good chances by failing to follow through sometimes when a good point was made.

Eisenhower's mistakes will be forgotten, but the mistakes of Stevenson will be subject to a post-mortem review by Democratic party leaders in various states.

Here are some of the mistakes of Stevenson:

1. A failure to attract the middle-income groups and small business-men's vote—the type of individual who influences many more votes than his own.

Stevenson had the labor vote in his hand—it couldn't go anywhere else—so he would have been in better shape if he had used tactics designed from the start to split the conservative vote. The Republicans were wide open to such an invasion. Instead of lambasting the Taft vote, much of it should have been wooed.

2. A failure to differentiate himself from Truman the politician and the administration's record and particularly a failure to condemn the erratic attitude of the administration on the corruption "mess."

Stevenson should have outlined corrective measures in a definite program.

Also, a couple of speeches denouncing political influence in modern government and how it fosters corruption would have been a big vote-getter.

3. A failure to prevent Truman from making personal attacks on Eisenhower, which undoubtedly caused many voters to assume that Stevenson approved the same kind of smear tactics.

4. A failure to select the better parts of the Truman record and emphasize them again and again. There was too much generality about "prosperity" without enough specific facts as to the improvement in the standard of living in recent years and the reasons for it as the Democrats see it.

5. A failure to condemn Alger Hiss early in the campaign and to disassociate Stevenson himself from the sniping attacks made by so-called "liberals" on the FBI and on the congressional committees investigating Communists in government.

This cost Stevenson many votes among those Catholics who regarded communistic philosophy as a menace, especially when so much of it is so close to radicalism and socialism.

6. Failure to lay out a constructive program on the world peace problem. Instead, Stevenson showed a kind of passiveness and complacency about the entire rearmament program and its impact on our economic life. He ignored the fact that our U.N. allies are not supporting us properly with manpower.

An opportunity for real leadership presented itself on this issue which would have won the many Republican votes in the East that are naturally inclined toward the international rather than the isolationist side.

7. A failure to outline some basic principles of labor-management relations which would have given assurance to management that Stevenson was not going to be a captive of the CIO.

For, notwithstanding his claim that he would be independent, his speech to the AFL convention was an abject surrender and really forecast that he would favor a one-sided labor law to replace the Taft-Hartley Act.

Stevenson made literary speeches of intellectual composition but without enough substance on the real issues.

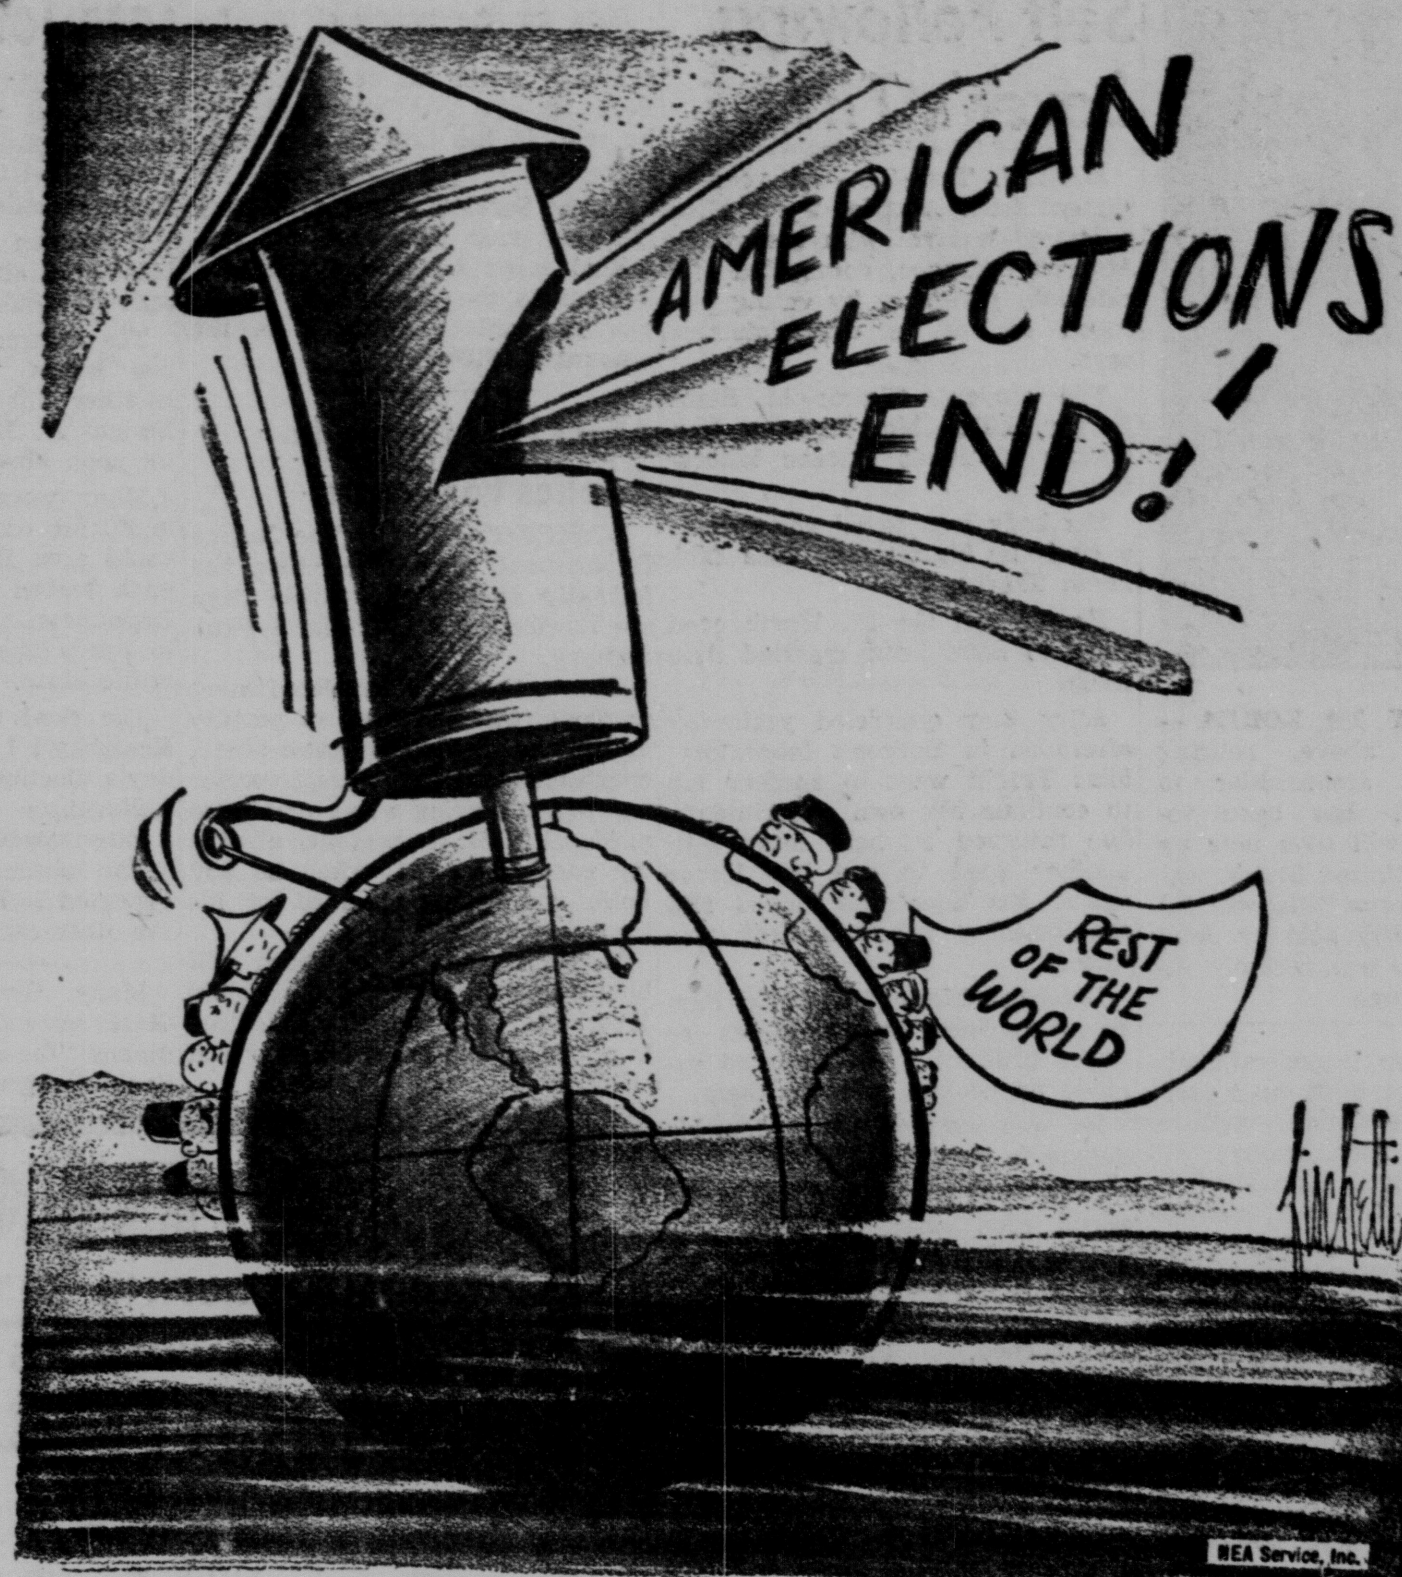

He may learn by 1956—for, even this early, it may be said that from the viewpoint of the Democratic party he is worthy of another chance.

Is It Fair To Our Children?

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

McCall's Magazine, which goes principally to women, ran a story recently which bore this headline: "Danger's Ahead in the Public Schools."

"If some body is attacking your child's teachers and textbooks, find out what he's after. It may be the ruin of public education."

I have not looked at McCall's in years, but my wife reads it, and I caught that headline over her shoulder.

As a parent, I am interested in the Communist infiltration into our school system which has been proved conclusively as to pattern by various committees of Congress and state legislatures.

THE AUTHOR of this article, John Bainbridge, does not bear a name familiar to me in either the fields of education or anti-Communism.

To get back to this article, it starts this way: "A bewildering disease that threatens to reach epidemic proportions has infected the public schools in America. It has already struck in scores of communities from coast to coast.

"It is spreading at a gallop. It contaminates the rich and poor community alike, and its effects are malignant.

"The disease does not attack the body but, rather, the mind and the spirit.

"It produces unreasoning fear and hysteria. It causes distrust and animosities among the citizens and toward the schools. It impairs the morals of teachers and administrators.

"It creates in students a paralyzing apathy toward exploring controversial subjects.

"Its over-all effect is to induce conformity and rigidity of thought."

SO FAR, so good! I imagined that here was a recruit to anti-Communism, perhaps a young man who, disgusted by the regimentation of thought under Stalin's rule, was going to fight the Americans who have become Joe's slaves wherever he can discover them.

Imagine my surprise when I found that this article is really nothing of the sort. It is an attack on the anti-Communists. It warns parents to beware of patriots who give their time and energy to the exposure of left wing efforts to corrupt our children.

As an example, he cited, in October 1952, a quarrel among citizens in Scarsdale, a suburb of New York City, in 1949.

While this issue of McCall's magazine was on the stands, the McCarran committee was actually in session in New York investigating Communist teachers, some of whom were summarily dismissed because they refused to answer pertinent questions.

The McCarran committee, which has only broached the subject, produced enough evidence to indicate the trend which the patriotic citizens of Scarsdale were calling to the attention of their more complacent neighbors.

It would appear from Mr. Bainbridge's article that one reason that text-books given to school children have wrong ideas is that they are obsolete. This is a question of honesty. I once had an argument about that with one of the very top text-book publishers in America.

HIS VIEW was that Russia could be lied about, favorably, of course, when Stalin was our ally. It was then thought to be advantageous to our children to teach them to love Russia, but now that we are at war with Russia, hot in Korea, cold in Europe, it is advantageous to cause our children to hate Russia.

But what is the truth? Is education to be banded to the political needs of the state? Is that doctrine of Hitler and Stalin to prevail in American schools?

Are we to teach biology to prove that Michurin, a Russian, was right and that Mendel, a Roman Catholic priest, was wrong, or vice versa, depending upon our politics?

Are courses in the social sciences to be revised depending upon which political party is in control in Washington? Are our children to be taught essential patriotism now after having grounded them in abject internationalism because the times have changed?

More fundamental than these questions is the matter of morals and ethics. Are Marxists to start our children's careers with their environmentalist doctrines which exclude religion as superstition, patriotism as chauvinism, morals as comparative and ethics as a bourgeois notion?

Is it fair to our children to permit Marxists at public expense to corrupt them early in life?

The answer to that is the increase in juvenile delinquency during the past 20 years since the Marxists have had such a strident influence upon education in our country.

By TRUMAN TWILL

A friend of ours was telling about a friend of his—a small-town product—who recently was transferred by his company to a better job in New York City.

Unable to find an apartment close to his new headquarters and unwilling to hole up with his wife and children in a piano box, even had one been for rent, he chose a location in the suburbs.

That was all right, except that he now uses up three hours of his time every day getting to and from his job—an hour and a half each way. Our friend says his friend is so dissatisfied with this arrangement he may throw over the job to get away from the three-hour grind which wears him down every day.

The same thing happens to hundreds of thousands of people in varying degrees. Bound by the tradition that they should go to and from their jobs each working day, they are using up enormous amounts of energy and money to commuting which frequently has no justification—not in every case, but frequently.

There is a better way. It has been used. It makes sense. It saves money. And it could add a great deal of efficiency if it were established and used systematically.

As is our custom when remodeling an imperfect world, the blueprint is free for the asking.

Workers should stay on the premises a week and two weeks at a time, working and living together in shifts. At the end of each shift they should knock off for an uninterrupted sojourn at home with their families.

The sojourn would be made possible by doubling up on the time worked while on the job, in the case of people who work by the hour. In the case of salaried personnel, it would mean only that these people would be available for duty around the clock if necessary.

Many of them are on call anyway. Everybody would work when it was time to work and enjoy uninterrupted leisure when it was time to knock off and rest.

Among other advantages would be less traffic jams, commuter tension, mixups in one-car families, harried wives, people who never have time to eat breakfast and cumulative fatigues induced by unbroken monotony.

There would be, in all probability, a sharp increase of efficiency on the job, to say nothing of the work which would get done around the house. Families would live more harmoniously, organizations would run more smoothly and the annual problem of arranging and rearranging vacations would be virtually abolished from management's worries. Portal-to-portal pay and portal-to-portal time put in without pay would be abolished.

It's already being done. Professional baseball players and football players do it. Dozens of companies have done it when dealing with lock-ins during strikes. The idea is old—possibly old enough to strike fire along about the turn of the century.

It's free, the man said, as he prepared to make the daily dash homeward in time to eat his evening meal, catch a night's sleep and rush back to work with half a breakfast inside him to face another day in the mines.

Hydrogen Bomb May Be Exploded

U. S. Tests Near End; No Results Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may have exploded the world's first full-scale hydrogen bomb—and be keeping it secret.

This year's nuclear weapons tests at Eniwetok, announced for the "autumn months," are either completed or nearing an end. They generally were expected to include use of a standard atomic bomb to touch off enough hydrogen to produce a super-sized blast.

The Atomic Energy Commission has made no announcements of results such as followed the previous mid-Pacific experiments beginning in 1948.

All of these have been closed to the press and public, but restrictions were unusually tight this year. The AEC said they were to be "conducted under full security provisions" of the Atomic Energy Act. One source said there was no certainty there would be any announcement this time.

The government has announced that the spring, 1951, series included tests "contributing to the thermonuclear weapons research," a reference to the intense heat of a hydrogen explosion. Presumably, a small, experimental amount of hydrogen was used then.

Pilot Tells Of Episode In War Life

WITH FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea (AP)—An Air Force pilot who bailed out over the battlefield in Korea told today of the suspense a pilot goes through when he doesn't know whether he has landed in Communist or Allied territory.

Second Lt. Dean E. Cling, Medford, N.J., was flying a photo mission in his unarmed RF80 Shooting Star when it was hit by flak north of the Punch Bowl.

"One instant I was flying along enjoying life, and the next I was straddling an explosion," Cling related.

"I felt a jolt. The cockpit filled with smoke and the radio wouldn't even sputter.

"Then, the cockpit smoke turned to flames. I bailed out, spinning over and over, and started worrying about where I was going to land — their sector or ours.

"Drifting north, I almost gave up hope. When I hit the ground I figured that, at best, I was in no man's land.

"I started moving away from my chute as far as possible. I was trying to get to a ridge where I could signal a plane. There might be a chance a helicopter could get me, I thought.

"Then, I heard something coming through the brush. I forgot about escape and concentrated on evasion.

"They started calling, 'downed pilot.' When I called out, they shouted 'We're your buddies.' It sounded too good... So I took off for the other side of the hill.

"Then, I heard someone rustling even closer. I dived into a bush. I just lay there, hardly breathing, as the rustling came closer.

"I finally became unbearable, and I yelled, 'Who are you?' He must have been surprised, because he jumped out and shouted, 'I'm an American.' Then I saw the sergeant's stripes on his hat."

Americans Abroad

By HAL BOYLE
ROME (AP)—If there is anything an American cannot stand, it is to be disliked.
And the feeling he is disliked now abroad ruins the visit of many a tourist to Europe.
"You know, they really don't like us over here," one tourist tells another, and adds virtuously: "After all we did for them, too—I just can't understand it."

It is this attitude, of course, this air of bragging look-at-all-we-did-for-you, that is sure to win contemptuous dislike wherever and whenever it is displayed. The ordinary European doesn't like to be regarded as an object of charity; he does not regard Uncle Sam's roving nephews as Philanthropists, and in any case he is unwilling to drop dead of gratitude for anybody.

The best way to win friends and influence people in Europe is to avoid taking personal credit for the Marshall Plan, and, if the subject even is mentioned, look surprised and say, "The Marshall Plan? What is it?"

This will endear you forever to all Europeans within hearing. Most of them are weary of explaining why, despite all the good old American dollars poured so generously into their country, it still looks slightly shabbier than the Garden of Eden.

In Italy, as elsewhere in Europe, the Marshall Plan comes in for a lot of ribbing. As we passed a huge apartment project on the outskirts of Rome, our Italian guide explained it was being built with Marshall Plan funds and added: "No one with hiccups is allowed to move in—for fear he will jar the walls down."

Actually, the average American abroad is generally exaggerated, except in Communist areas. There he is not only disliked; he is actively hated.

The tourist passes unnoticed in the shopping centers or promenade avenues of big Italian cities. But let him stroll down a side street populated by Communist supporters and he cannot mistake the meaning of the black looks in the faces turned his way. To them he is no mere tourist on a vacation—he personifies Wall Street, rampant capitalism, the third world war, and all the other enemy symbols of their propaganda literature.

You can feel this visible hatred, and it makes you uneasy and depressed, because what can you do about it? Nothing. It gives you a kind of brief hopeless loneliness, to be hated in this unreasoning way, and it takes some of the luster from your vacation.

But with this disturbing exception, Frances and I have encountered no widespread or general animosity against Americans.

The friendliness with which you are greeted in Europe is measured in exact ratio to your behavior, as it should be. Knowing only a single Italian word—"grazie," which means "thank you"—we traveled happily throughout Italy and met nothing but helpful kindness all the way.

You can have a good time in any land if you take the trouble to learn that one warm word of phrase in its language which allows you to tell a man in his own tongue you appreciate the courtesies he extends you, a stranger. Here "grazie" is "open sesame" indeed.

A longtime resident here said: "The Americans most disliked in Italy are those who were born here, go to the United States, make enough to retire on, and then come back to their native village. They are inclined to show off their wealth and brag about how much better everything is in America, and naturally this annoys the other villagers. They wish such Americans would never return here."

Actress Rosemary Lane Asks Support Money

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Rosemary Lane was in court yesterday asking for $1,245.98 a month support for herself and daughter, Susan Bridget. She declared her husband, makeup artist Bud Westmore, needs only $400 a month. Westmore testified he has turned over his paychecks to his wife for the last 10 years and that she gave him an allowance. "Last year it was $15 a week," he said. His lawyer told the court Westmore earns only $1,300 a month. Superior Judge Mildred Lille continued the case until Dec. 4 and advised the couple to try to reach an agreement with the aid of a marriage counselor.

Ike Piles Up Most Popular Votes Ever

WASHINGTON, (U-P) — Dwight D. Eisenhower drew more popular votes Tuesday than any other presidential candidate in history in an election which also set a new high for total votes cast.

The Republican President-elect received 31,875,451 votes with 10,842 of the nation's 146,361 precincts still to be heard from.

The previous high was piled up by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936—27,751,597 when all returns were in from his race with Alf M. Landon.

Tuesday's incomplete total vote east for both Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson added up to 57,544,367, compared with the previous record of 49,820,312 set in 1940 when Roosevelt defeated Wendell L. Willkie.

U.S. Horsemen Do Well In Show

Three Star Riders Planning Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States equestrian team is going great guns at the 64th National Horse Show, outshining the best riders from four other nations in the international jumping competition.

But the question came up today: what is this country going to do for a team to replace the three star members now planning to retire — at least for the year — after the Toronto winter fair in Canada ends Nov. 22? The U. S. has been invited to two shows in Mexico next month.

Arthur McCashin of Pluckemin, N.J., captain of the U. S. team, and Billy Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., both of whom competed in the Olympic games last summer in Helsinki, along with Maj. John Russell, now on Army duty in Germany, say they are through. The same goes for Mrs. Carol Durand, the Kansas City housewife who left a husband and baby at home to return to international competition at the current Madison Square Garden show.

"This is all well," said young Steinkraus, star of the U. S. team who has won three individual championships including the President of Mexico Trophy last night.

"But, it isn't putting any money in the bank for me, I have to go back to work."

Steinkraus, 27, and McCashin have been under a terrific grind for 14 months, while Mrs. Durand kept in trim at home since she wasn't eligible for the Olympics. McCashin has a wife and family at his New Jersey farm and he's seen very little of them for more than one year.

Brig. Gen. Alfred G. Tuckerman, president of the national show, says Maj. Jack Burton, w.i.d. the U. S. Army at Ft. Knox, Ky.; Charles B. Lyman Jr., West Chester, Pa.; Carter Buller, Grose Pointe, Mich.; and Philip Tate, Southern Pines, N.C., are anxious to ride on a new team.

But, the major problem is horses. Three on lease from the U. S. Army—Democrat, now 19; Totilla, 20-year-old captured German horse; and Rattler — are showing signs of wear.

The only two figured certain are Reno Kirk, owned by Mrs. John W. Wofford, Ft. Riley, Kan., and Paleface, owned by Sam J. Campbell, Mt. Carroll, Ill. Help must be sought from owners of jumpers, if the U. S. is to appear in Mexico — and for that matter, in the international competition next year.

Brown Still Wonders How Good Team Is

CLEVELAND (AP) — Midway through the pro football season Coach Paul Brown still wonders how good his Cleveland Browns are. So far he hasn't seen the first team work.

Injuries started filling the bench in the opening season game and by now fully half the club—taped and bruised—operates at far less than peak ability.

Dante Lavelli, Brown's No. 1 end, has not caught a pass all season. Ken Carpenter, the No. 1 runner, also limps. Both missed four games entirely and worked only parts of the other two.

"I thought we had a good team," Brown says. "But it probably will be some time before I know—until everybody gets back in top shape."

The Browns, who have won four and lost two, are tied with New York for first place in the American Conference. And that is not good enough for Cleveland, a city used to grid championships.

For the first time, letter-writers to Cleveland papers tell Brown to do things differently.

The coach can only point to the feasts of tape—the "price we paid" for winning all those titles. "We are the big mark," he continued. "All the teams point for us, week after week after week. That means more injuries."

The Browns take on the Chicago Cardinals Sunday at Municipal Stadium.

15 Hamilton Grid Players Suspended From Squad

HAMILTON, O. (AP) — Coach Chuck Thackara has announced 15 members of the Hamilton High School football team have been suspended from the squad for the rest of the year for disciplinary reasons.

Thackara said Thursday the suspensions stemmed from the boys' breaking training rules last Friday night when the team stayed at a hotel in Warren following a game there. The 15 players left the hotel after the 12:30 a. m. checkup to attend a party, he reported.

The Big Blue has two more games scheduled.

Maxim To Defend Title Against Moore Dec. 17

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Joe Maxim of Cleveland will defend his light heavyweight boxing title Dec. 17 against Archie Moore.

Officials of the International Boxing Club and the St. Louis Arena said Thursday a contract was signed for the 15-round bout that will be televised nationally. Maxim's handler, Jack Kearns, said Maxim was guaranteed 45 per cent of the net gate.

Oklahoma-Irish TV Game Of Week; Tech, Southern Cal, UCLA Have Breathers

NEW YORK (AP) — The college football season begins its mad rush down the home stretch tomorrow with gold in the form of bowl games and glory in the form of conference championships for the first to hit the wire.

With the exception of the University of Maryland—rated second in the Associated Press' weekly poll — all the big boys get into action. Except for Oklahoma, the undefeated teams all seem to have easy sailing.

The Sooners, well on their way to another Big Seven crown, a title on which they have squatter's rights, face Notre Dame in the NCAA's television game of the week. Some of these TV games have been busts since the schedule was made up before the season started with the intention of bringing in a top game of the day.

The Irish have been in-and-outers most of the season, but although underdogs they should at least make it close for Billy Vessels, and company. If they rise to the occasion, it could be an upset. The Sooners rank fourth in the nation and are undefeated although they've been tied once.

Michigan State, the No. 1 outfit, has a breather (are there anything except breathers for the Spartans these days?) in Indiana and the only question seems to be how long Biggie Munn's lads will wait before turning on the power.

Georgia Tech, UCLA and Southern California should have no undue trouble in their day's assignments. Tech, already selected for the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans on New Year's Day, goes against Army, which, although no pushover in any man's league, certainly is not in the Ramblin' Wrecks' class. UCLA and Southern California, in a neck and neck battle for the Pacific Coast Conference title and the Rose Bowl nomination, tangle with Oregon State and Stanford, respectively. For both schools it should be just another warmup as they rush toward their showdown game on Nov. 22.

Kansas, which still has hopes, slight though they are, of winning the Big Seven crown from Oklahoma, should have no trouble in its conference game with Nebraska, a team that's only as good as Bobby Reynolds—and he's been hampered with an injury.

In the Big Ten and Southwest Conference, Purdue and Texas are leading the pack in the race for the Rose and Cotton Bowls, and both figure to take one step nearer their league titles. Purdue plays Minnesota and Texas, which has become a giant in the SWC, tackles Baylor.

Villanova and Mississippi, a pair of teams that are undefeated but tied and have strong hopes of winding up in one of the big bowls—have breezes. Villanova, probably the strongest team in the East this year, travels to Oklahoma for a game with the University of Tulsa, while Mississippi figures to get nothing more than a good warmup when it faces Houston.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee, the team that won the AP poll last year, with only one defeat on its slate is favored over Louisiana State, while Penn State, which has been mentioned as a possible Cotton Bowl nominee, has a fairly tough foe in Syracuse.

Skippin' Around

By SKIP GREENISEN

Reading recently where the Mount Union Purple Raiders have failed to score in the second quarter of any of their games, this writer decided to check back on the Quakers and find where weaknesses and strong points were in the scoring department.

A look into the past games proves interesting since Salem has scored fewer points and yielded fewer points both in the second quarters of their eight games.

Coach Ben Barrett's charges have tallied just 18 points in the second quarters of the eight games already played, an obvious offensive weakness in that quarter. However, a look at opponents' scoring in the same quarter finds the Quakers with a strong defense by giving up a minimum of 46 points to the foes.

The first quarter seems to be Salem's best offensive period since they have tallied a maximum of 37 points in the period. The third quarter runs a close second with 34 points scored while the fourth frame shows 31 markers scored for the locals.

The fourth quarter seems to be Salem's worst since opponents have tallied 76 markers. Two foes pushed through 13 points in the fourth while two others have tallied 13 markers.

Running second is the first quarter with 54 points tallied. Forty-eight points have been scored in the third quarter, the second quarter being last with 46 markers.

Youngstown South, fifth opponent of the Salem schedule, scored the most points (21) against the Quakers in one quarter. The Warriors also hold the largest team output of 48 points.

Another Youngstown school, Chaney, scored the fewest points against the Quakers with eight, getting all of them in the second period. Chaney is the only Salem foe which failed to get in the double figure column in the total game score. Ravenna runs the lowest in double figures with 13 while two teams scored in the 20s, two in the 30's and two in the 40's.

Only two foes have tallied in every quarter against the Quakers in their initial eight contests, Bellaire in the first tilt of the season and East Liverpool a week ago.

The Big Red tallied 12, 7, 7 and 18 against the locals for a total of 44 points, second high for opponents. The Potters scored 7, 6, 7 and 13 points in last week's contest, although they waited until the last 18 seconds of the initial quarter for their touchdown.

The Quakers, in turn, also have scored in every period against two of their opponents. Oddly enough, both all-period-scoring uprisings came in the lone pair of games that the Quakers have won, Canton Timken and Wellsville being the victims.

The three largest scoring periods in single games for the Quakers came in their two triumphs. The locals scored 14 in the third period in the Timken game after getting 13 in the first frame. They also scored 12 points of their total 18 for all eight games in the second period of the Wellsville tilt. Single touchdowns for the locals have come in 13 other quarters.

Forty points is tops for the Quakers in a single game, that coming in the victory over Timken. Second high is 31 points against Wellsville and from there the Quakers drop to 13 points on two occasions, seven against Ravenna and single touchdown outputs in three contests.

Prior to tonight's game, the locals have tallied an even 120 points for the eight games, an average of 15 points per contest, while opponents have smashed through 224 markers, an average of nearly twice Salem's at 28 points per game.

All But One Of Indiana's Home Cage Games On TV

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — All but one of Indiana University's home basketball games this season will be televised.

Athletic Director Paul Harrell said Thursday the telecasts will be sponsored commercially. Harrell said the telecasts should reduce the public demand for tickets. Sale to the public has been limited because of the size of the school. The Indiana fieldhouse seats about 10,000 for basketball.

Six Eastern Gridders Up For All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — Five members of Maryland's unbeaten team along with Yale's fine passer, Ed Molloy, are the latest to catch the eye of the Eastern board scanning material for The Associated Press' All-America football team.

Jack Scarbath, the Terrapins' brilliant T-quarterback who is a leading All-America candidate, headed the Maryland list which also included halfback Chester Hanulak, tackles Dick Modzelewski and Bob Morgan and guard Bill Maletzky.

Maryland defeated Boston University, 34-7, last week for its 19th straight victory. Scarbath, a ball-handling magician from Baltimore, commanded the attack.

Molloy, a slick quarterback from Fairfield, Conn., led Yale to a 21-7 triumph over Dartmouth, completing 13 passes for a season's total of 73. His best receiver, Ed Woodsum, also was mentioned for consideration for the third straight week.

You'll See These Gridders On TV Saturday Afternoon

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (U-I)—Introductory players you'll see on your TV screen Saturday as unbeaten Oklahoma meets once-defeated Notre Dame.

Quarterback Eddie Crowder (No. 10), a senior, is captain, 175-pound senior majoring in architecture, but in football all he does is tear down the opposition. A sassy signal-caller, superb fader and ball-handler, Crowder is the key man in Oklahoma's split-T attack.

Center Tom Catlin (No. 54) is the other co-captain. He is a top All-America prospect. He does a tremendous job of blocking after slipping the ball to Crowder.

Defensive right end Gene Calams (No. 31) is a little guy, standing only 5-9 and weighing 165, this Sulphur, Okla., sophomore is perhaps Oklahoma's finest open field tackler.

Defensive right half Jack Ging (No. 11) is Oklahoma's smallest performer, a 152-pounder who has a way of sneaking under enemy passes.

Offensive end John Reddell (No. 30) is a senior pass-catching star, a carry-over from the baseball diamond.

Fullback Buck McPhail (No. 41) is a senior business major who gives the business to rival line-men. He weighs 202 pounds, McPhail has ripped 615 yards in 89 tries.

Halfback Billy Vessels (No. 85) "Curly" is what they call this 20-year-old senior from Cleveland, Okla. He really rips up the turf with 617 yards in 96 tries.

Notre Dame Right halfback Johnny Lattner (No. 14) is a real workhorse who plays the halfback slot on both defense and offense. A 190-pound junior who received All-City and All-Star prep honors at Chicago's Fenwick High.

Left halfback Joe Heap (No. 42) is a sophomore standout from New Orleans and also a commerce major. A 175-pounder, Joe is a slashing runner who has gained 261 yards for a 4.7 average and barged to three touchdowns.

Fullback Neil Worden (No. 48) is a power-driving 190-pound junior from Milwaukee who topped the Irish in scoring last year. Worden's stabs at massed defenses near the goal line this season have paid off on six touchdowns.

Quarterback Ralph Guglielmi (No. 3) is the split-T sophomore field general from Columbus, O., who wants to play pro football after graduation before taking up dentistry. Ralph does most of the passing, hitting 43 out of 89 so far for 43 yards and two touchdowns.

Quarterback Tom Carey (No. 2) is a Chicago sophomore who usually alternates by quarters with Guglielmi. Tom has tried only 24 passes, hit on 11 for 172 yards. Right Guard Jack Alessandrini (No. 68) is a 200-pound senior captain from Charleston, W. Va. Goes both ways, but spends most of his time as center linebacker.

Yanks Sign 18-Year-Old Fastball Mound Ace

LANCASTER, Pa. (U-I)—The New York Yankees Thursday signed 18-year-old Elvin Plautz, fastball pitcher from nearby Ephrata, to a bonus contract.

Yankee Scouts Ed Deck and Frank O'Rourke, who signed Plautz for the world champion American League club, said the young pitcher will be assigned to the Yankees farm club at Joplin, Mo., in the Class C Western Association.

Plautz was given the Outstanding Player Award at Shibe Park last summer for his hurling performance in an American Legion All-Star game.

Eddie Compo Favored in TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (U-I)—Eddie Compo is an 8 to 5 favorite to beat Pat Marcune tonight and end the Coney Island featherweight's winning streak.

The featherweights clash in a 10 rounder which will be telecast nationally from St. Nicholas Arena. Marcune, a stiff punching 128-pounder, has won four in a row, two by decisions and two by knock-outs. This is his first main event in a national TV show and he's primed to make a good showing.

But Compo, who will have a five-pound weight edge, 128 to 133, appears to be too smart and too experienced for his 23-year-old Brooklyn rival.

Panthers Practice in Ohio Stadium

COLUMBUS, O. (U-I)—The University of Pittsburgh's football team will practice today on the turf of Ohio Stadium, site of their tussle Saturday with host Ohio State.

Thursday the Bucks ran through their running and passing offense amid gloomy and cold weather. Coach Woody Hayes said the workout was "satisfactory."

Ohio State's long list of injuries was cut to one, Doug Goodenell, with a banged head, may not be in his linebacker spot against the Panthers.

A boy from Pennsylvania, Skip Doyle of Rochester, will be in the Buck lineup if Goodenell doesn't start.

The squad is expected to be in near top physical shape.

Maryland, Oklahoma Get Sugar Bowl Bids

WASHINGTON (U-I)—Both Maryland and Oklahoma have been invited to play Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl and whichever team first gets conference permission gets the formal bid, the Washington Post said today.

Maryland, a member of the Southern Conference, and Oklahoma, a member of the Big Seven, are both banned from post-season games under present conference rules.

Discussion Set On Ohio Pen Riot

Lausche And Cabinet To Weigh Problems

COLUMBUS, O. (U-P) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche's cabinet today will discuss problems caused by riots and fires at Ohio Penitentiary.

Whether the discussion will center on repairing and rebuilding the present damaged building or building a new prison is not known.

John H. Lamneck, welfare director and head of the state's prison system, said he did not know what the governor would recommend.

"I'm going to see what he has in mind at the cabinet meeting," Lamneck commented. The govern-nor announced the cabinet meeting Thursday.

The inmates started the prison riot last Friday at supper. They complained about food, banged their trays on tables and shouted Warden R. W. Alvis' attempts to calm them down.

Then the inmates stormed the prisonyard, set fire to several buildings, broke locks from their cells and repulsed efforts of prison guards, State Highway Patrolmen and National Guardsmen to control them. The convicts ended their riot Tuesday.

No official report has been made public on the total damage at the prison.

Lamneck issued an executive order Thursday making a portion of Camp Perry an official part of Ohio Penitentiary. A total of 152 inmates were transferred from the pen to the Northwestern Ohio camp Wednesday. They will be joined by other prisoners today.

Some 800 of the better-behaved inmates eventually will be shifted to the National Guard camp along Lake Erie so repairs can be made.

Ike Has 2½ Months To Get Ready For Role Of President

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Since he moves into the White House Jan. 20, Gen. Eisenhower has a little over 2½ months to get ready for the presidency.

One of his first and most ticklish problems is naming the right men for key government jobs, such as the secretary of state and the secretary of defense, who will be members of his Cabinet.

He'll have to rely on them for guidance in the years ahead. And he knows, without reading any more history than that of the past four years, how much damage a poor selection can do his administration.

Because they've won control of both Congress and the executive branch of the government, the Republicans will be able to name people to a lot of jobs.

There are two main kinds of jobs which the President can fill by appointment.

In one kind he can appoint a man for a certain number of years, for a certain number of years, fixed by law; in the other kind the jobs are "at the pleasure of the president," meaning the president can give them and take them away when he pleases.

A White House researcher said there are about 600 jobs "at the pleasure of the president." They include the very top government posts and can be broken down into about six categories:

1. Heads and assistant heads of departments. In this group are the Cabinet members—the secretaries of all the departments—and their undersecretaries and assistant secretaries.

2. Others in the departments. They include the general counsels of each department (each department has a staff of lawyers and the general counsel is top lawyer). No. 2 also includes ambassadors and ministers, and such jobs as director of geological survey, commissioner of reclamation, commissioner of Indian affairs, director of the Bureau of Mines.

3. Heads and assistant heads of independent agencies. A couple of good examples here are the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Civil Service Commission.

4. Others in independent agencies. For example: the commissioner of education (in the Federal Security Administration) and the director of locomotive inspection (in the Interstate Commerce Commission).

5. Miscellaneous boards and commissions. Truman created such special groups as the Missouri River Basin Survey Commission, the Presidential Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation, and the President's Committee on Equality of Treatment in the Armed Services.

6. International organizations. These involve men appointed at the pleasure of the president to be American representatives in such groups as the United Nations, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Commission between the United States and Canada.

But there are a number of other very important government agencies where the top men were appointed by President Truman or even President Roosevelt for a fixed number of years and can't be replaced by Eisenhower until their term expires.

For example, the Federal Reserve

Board with seven members. The term of each runs for 14 years. There are others, like the National Labor Relations Board (5 members), the Securities Commission (11 members) and the Interstate Commerce and board members are staggered.

Storms In Europe Kill 18, Leave Property Damage High

LONDON (AP)—Storms that ranged from the North Sea to the Mediterranean claimed at least 18 lives in Europe today and left considerable property damage, especially to ships and dock installations.

Winds of up to more than 90 miles an hour buffeted the British Isles, the English Channel, the Irish and North Seas.

Almost all ports along the North Sea coast reported dike and dock damage. Four men in an emergency dike repair squad drowned at Wersabe near Wesermuende, Germany. Two persons were killed in Berlin when winds toppled bomb-damaged buildings. Lightning killed a West German woman in a farm field.

The 6,379-ton Panamanian steamer Faustus ran aground off the hook of Holland Thursday and the crew abandoned ship. The Faustus, carrying a cargo of coal from Newport News, Va., to Rotterdam, tried to enter the new waterway leading up to Rotterdam without a pilot.

In England, a dozen ships were torn from their moorings in the Thames. The channel boat Hampton Ferry made a storm-tossed crossing with 107 passengers from Dover to Dunkerque but was unable to dock on the French side and returned to England.

Storms that have lashed the Ligurian and Tyrrhenian Seas for three days have taken at least 10 lives. Fishing fleets scurried into port. Landing operations in NATO's big Mediterranean naval maneuvers were postponed.

A wild hailstorm sweeping through the Dodecanese Islands damaged the antenna of the Voice of America's floating radio station "Courier," forcing temporary suspension of transmissions.

Hunters jump season at Alliance, fined. Two hunters who jumped the gun on the opening of the rabbit season today paid fines and costs amounting to $347.40 in municipal court.

Judge Harry S. Wyckoff assessed a fine of $50 plus costs on each of three charges against Otho Sutherland, 29, of rural Alliance, and William Pearce, 47, of Portage Lakes.

Game Warden Bob Underwood said the two men were hunting at night under the lights of a farm tractor in a field here. Three rabbits were found in their possession.

Three Drivers Fined On Patrol Charges. Three motorists were each fined $10 and costs in Mayor Harry M. Vincent's court Thursday evening following their arrest by the State Highway Patrol. Eisenhower

Gen. Lucius Clay, former military governor of the American zone in Germany, and John Foster Dulles, foreign policy adviser.

His proposal for the week of Nov. 17 appeared to indicate that he is not planning to go to Korea much before the end of this month. He pledged himself to make the trip, while he was campaigning, and he confirmed in a message to the President Wednesday that he will notify the secretary of defense when to provide transportation.

There is a grim and bitter advantage to arriving in the war zone in late November or early December. He will see the front at its savage worst.

By the middle of this month winter will be settling over the lines. A torrent of cutting cold rolls down the peninsula from Siberia. For the foot-slogger, the next four months are sheer misery.

Eisenhower has said that he would go to Korea with two primary objectives. One is to search for the means of bringing an honorable end to the war. The other is to determine how rapidly, and in what degree, South Korean divisions can be trained and organized for front-line duty so that American divisions may be brought back to reserve duty in the rear.

One of his first talks undoubtedly will be with Syngman Rhee, president of the Republic of Korea. Rhee has messaged congratulations on the general's victory in the election.

Eisenhower, an expert on plans, operations and organization, can address himself among other things to the problems of logistics—getting arms and equipment into Korea, and a cadre of officers to direct the training of the Koreans. This of necessity must be co-ordinated with American efforts to build an army in Europe.

As for his first tour of the golf course here—a course the great Bobby Jones helped design—apparently there was nothing to strike terror among the reigning professionals or amateurs around the country.

He played nine holes with Ed Dudley, the pro at this club. No score was kept. Dudley said afterward, "I think he hit some pretty good shots, but the general thought he hit a lot more bad ones than good ones... He was just warming up."

The President-elect will try again today.

Boy, 9½, Faces Charge Of Murder In England. NEWPORT England (AP)—A 9½-year-old boy charged with murdering his 17-day-old brother was held in a special police home today to await further court proceedings.

At a preliminary hearing yesterday, police said the baby apparently had been hit on the head with a bottle while he was lying in his cot.

Under British law, names of juveniles appearing in court are not made public.

Democrats Lead 5 Undecided Races For Election To House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats of these states may not be made were ahead today in four of the five undecided contests for election to the U. S. House of Representatives. Final tallies in some

With 218 seats needed to control the House, the Republicans have elected 220 and the Democrats 209 while one independent has been chosen. One of the elected Democrats—Adolph Sabath of Illinois—died Thursday, reducing the Democratic roster to 208.

If the present trend continues, the makeup of the House at its assembling will be: Republicans 221; Democrats 213 (one vacancy); independents 1.

One of the in-doubt contests was resolved today. That race gave Don Magnuson, Democrat, the new representative at a large seat in Washington. He defeated Al Canwell, Republican. The vote, with 43 precincts still out, stood: Magnuson 477,590; Canwell 462,594.

A tabulation of the absentee ballots or an official canvass will be needed in the undecided races to determine the eventual winner.

Here's how they stood today: California 13th District (official vote complete): Rep. Ernest K. Bramlett, Republican incumbent, led Will Hayes, Democrat, by 639 votes. Absentee ballots will be counted Nov. 21.

Colorado 4th District (official vote complete): Rep. Wayne N. Aspinwall, Democratic incumbent, 39,713; Howard M. Shulis, Republican, 39,648. Official canvass to be made in about three weeks.

Florida 1st District (official vote complete): Courtney Campbell, Democrat, 64,908; William C. Cramer, Republican, 64,191. Some 7,500 absentee ballots to be counted today.

Idaho 1st District (390 of 399 precincts complete): Mrs. Grace Post, Democrat, 54,555; Rep. John T. Wood, Republican incumbent, 53,808.
